International Conference On Emergency Management Technology

ICEMT 2011

Development of European Union public administrative procedures for the reduction and management of environmental hazards

Recovery of the red sludge disaster as experienced by the Hungarian public administration, civil protection, science, media and economy

May 23-25, 2011

Budapest, Veszprem - Szekszard

Name: Van den Acker Wilfried

Organisation: Flemish Ministry of Environment, Nature and Energy

Country: Belgium

Opinion on the conference:

I have got a lot of information during this conference. In the beginning it was difficult to find the relation between the different topics due to the amount of presentations. The more the conference developed, the more the coherence became clear.

I want to congratulate the Hungarian government for the professional approach during the disaster. It is clear that a good coherence between all the authorities involved with intervention, communication, science, ... was necessary for a quick recovery of the affected region.
